

I am accepting charitable donations,.

Dear Roe v. Doors & Concourses;

I've sent about 3 separate email requests to "the mass group" for programming assistance with this. For Chris's sake, I don't understand how nobody can be interested in working on this with me. It's almost nonsensical at this point--we should see that there's many eyes on what I'm talking about, and that this stuff is an evolutionary logical and mandatory step from ELE-ctoral college and representative democracy to ... "actually being free" with direct democracy and technological enoblement of our voting process.

These are all "demo" or "beta" software packages, the three of them could probably be glued together in a single weekend ... even just by me. I'm looking for it to be done better than ... my usual--and certainly i think it defies the ethos of ... the Soul of American Liberty to have to have a single person working on even beginning this project.

I think this log is pretty informative, it's a step forward from where I've been and I actually have 3 working projects with decent code to start with at this point, some of them look like they were "baseball MIT thrown directly to me predirectly to throw it back to you..."

It's really time, "it's now a significant evolution, and a mandatory one, I'm sure." Consider it a lote update to Revelation 1. You can ignore the scripture and move down if you want, it's tantamount to "hey everyone, this is mandatory. -JC"

You can reply directly to this email, I will get it--I usually don't. For "a" republic, and all that jazz. If you haven't been keeping up with the E-SHO, I'm pretty upset, and I've been sending a number of messages tantamount to "this really belongs on the newz and that's really obvious--you have verifiable proof of ... something akin to time travel or "a nameserver that can alter our history" ... see the LOL1820 object at chapter 128 down to chapter 130.

Revelation 1 New International Version (NIV)

Prologue

1 The revelation from Jesus Christ, which God gave him to show his servants what must soon take place. He made it known by sending his angel to his servant John, 2 who testifies to everything he saw—that is, the word of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ. 3 Blessed is the one who reads aloud the words of this prophecy, and blessed are those who hear it and take to heart what is written in it, because the time is near.

Greetings and Doxology Me

4 John,

To the seven churches in the province of Asia: (hey, dox me on TV it's ... "for the win" :)

Grace and peace to you from him who is, and who was, and who is to come, and from the seven spirits[a] before his throne, 5 and from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, the firstborn from the dead, and the ruler of the kings of the earth.

To him who loves us and has freed us from our sins by his blood, 6 and has made us to be a kingdom and priests to serve his God and Father—to him be glory and power for ever and ever! Amen.

7 "Look, he is coming with the clouds,"[b] and "every eye will see him, even those who pierced him";
and all peoples on earth "will mourn because of him." [c]
So shall it be! Amen.

8 "I am the Alpha and the Omega," says the Lord God, "who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty."

we need to glue these three things together

6:19 PM

so there's something working to look at

and can get people interested in making it

Tiny

Glue them together to make what?

Seth

its reddit and a wiki

and a blockchain storage "thing"

so an open reddit with permanent storage and record

by design

like you cant alter the history or hide the data

or falsify it

so its an opportune "sort of halfway point" between "really having no vote at all" and using software to ensure that our voting and legislation process actually belongs to the people and you know, when we decide to listen to god and adam

Hmmm

about "free voting and legislation and the internet"

somewhere in the middle a ... "middleware" link to the sky's brain interface so that it becomes something also open and recorded and opens it so we can access the functionality to do "what normal people would want to do" ... to get to the place i am writing about now--voting accurately and openly without actively researching or even "clicking"

There are already platforms for tracking legislation and laws, with revision histories and notes and shit. I don't see where adding a block chain is going to substantially benefit anything but i mean, right now all i want is something thats open source, running in a serverless environment and logging all data transactionally on a blockchain

Yes

blockchain is literally perfectly designed for storing voting records

i dont want to do what you're talking about, i want to open a legislation process to the world not track congress, replace it

And there are blockchain voting projects but to comment on "countable.us" and 1

tango down on "opencongress.org" which was much better

Oh

im not aware of any blockchain voting projects that have anything functional or open

Replace legislators with collaborative direct democracy?

yeah

This doesn't exist already?

with a collaborative system that sort of guides and oversees the creation of legislation and implementation process as far as i can see, neither in this place nor any other of course, i cant see anywhere else. if it existed already there i'd like to see it opened and forked as a matter of "natural progression"

On the eve of Friday, September 13 roughly 2,000 new recipients were added to the CAR and ARXM lists from the main "mass emailing list." These people were chosen because of open count statistics, and I assumed the fact that they had forwarded a single email (or opened it) at least 5 times meant that they had some "serious" interest in reading what I have to say about this message. Over the course of the "aftermath" of responses to unsubscribe (which by the way are the only comments I get, aside from a few interested people--a handful--2 or 3 and the same number of "FUU"s) I drafted this response, which "spurred me to remember" several of the key features that I plan(n't) to introduce (honestly, nearly all are "new ideas to the wiki/software world" coming from an ETL-cosm in religion and ... other software systems) as part of the SWORD PROJECT. Because of that, this message is appearing here, in what is the first "real conversation" I've had with anyone about it.

if that's been done elsewhere, then a "metacity sedation(window) manager" sort of meta-app store, which i think is also defined in our software model and not really ... seen anywhere which is probably telling but im here, and its not, and it should be--so if nobody is bringing it we should just throw something together and get a few million dollars to pay other people to take care of it and make it shiny and nice

Just commenting that this is supposed to be a "list of geniuses." This is now a double post, because 85 of you have failed to unsubscribe using the "printed instructions on every single email" ... please do see that .. just like I wrote in this original email, you look like morons. I hope you'll take the time to read this response--it has nothing to do with "how smart you are." I do comment about the "sacred silence" that I find abhorrent and anathemic to my goals and ethos--and how it also is encoded in words and in many more movies and myths about this strange time of darkness that Exodus ensures is about to come crashing down like the walls of Jericho. You see me; more of me than I'd ever want or allow in a free society that uses ... the "privacy protection" guaranteed by the Constitution and by "actually working through things like Triple Phenix" to preserve a way of life that ensures ... at least safety and sanity.

to me it's "evolutionarily obvious" in our system, and predestined literally by the american "framework" built by the framers

and our software models

Instead I am today attacked en masse, everywhere I go from Florida to New Orleans to Phoenix because of clear and obvious violations of this "privacy act" that is foundational to the Heavens being a "nice place to be" as much as it is foundation to not its like a miniscule amount of work to build something from these basic packages that would probably get venture capital being part of a systematic conspiracy to commit murder. It is not a secret, it is not sacred, and the place forcing you to do nothing but "unsubscribe" or say nothing, while at the same time failing to do anything at all and a miniscule amount of work to set up a foundation to build it useful about this message--that place is not Heaven. It's the creator and the sustainer of Hell.

I definitely don't have time for this anytime before I get back from vacation in Thanksgiving. I'll mull it over.

cc: the instructions for "actually getting what you talk to james want" are clearly written on every email. Im sorry to inform you that if you want to unsubscribe also from the "non public broadcast list" which has also found, through some mathematical process, that you (or one of the five other people who you have forwarded a single email to) "have significant interest in this material" you will now have to unsubscribe two separate times.

and seth and stuff

I can't keep track of this stuff, it's too much work for me to do alone. I also can't really tell if you want to unsubscribe or defeat some kind of "law of the skies" that connects "shalom" and "sacred silence" to uhhh... "Shrek" but be sure that the frog prince really wants to "be kissing" more than just to see this planet as i really dont want to have anything to do with it (other than endorsing one), ive tried to get other people to build it over and over for years

... the Planet X that connects Galactikiss to uhhh.... hear me, it's "Nintendo" and "Tennessee" and "Mecca's X-Box."

nobody si doing it

I am planning on opening up what I've written to a Wki-like-midrash commenting and editing system; something we don't really have in our modern wiki systems and haven't really seen since ... the "ancient Hebrew commenting system" designed to preserve the herat of the Matrix decoding message that is the "Torah." I think you'll find it aesthetically pleasing and "value adding" .. I suppose you could consider it something I'd like to add to the "software of the road" project that defines the actual intended designed meaning of the words "sword" and "Hilton."

or the people that are don't have working software and are more interested in "their particular coin" and cryptotrading than anything else

i want to stick it on ethereum

'The shape of his table is the heart of his word.'

-Wetradamus

Unfortunately today I am more worried about vandalism and "group gaming" of the system--something we can see in the broken Wikipedia editorial system that mars the face of the closest thing we have to a "limited omniscience" truth table source--as in, Matrix and M.T. Anderson's Feed; and has kept nearly everything I've written or edited in that place from making anything but the very well kept audit logs, another important "artifact" that ensures we will never lose "the written truth" or our voting records when this thing is also kept on a well designed destributed blockchaen like storage system.

on a public and independently run blockchain

in CLIR-TEXT

(meaning semi-private identities--basically using something like a personal private SSN)

Many people have commented that storing "large amounts of data" and now "small transactions" on the blockchain are prohibitively expensive--and they are, when you have a value system that disvalues the storage of large amounts of data. Because of that I plan on using one of the Ethereum test networks as my primary data storage device for this "sword-software project" which might magically turn fake money into real money if we did something intelligent and started valuing "Deth Tokens" used on this system for something like a "web of trust" (and/or Black Mirror... and/or PGP signature authority) system commentator/editor valuing system that rewards people for useful contribution. a "CSSLIN" or something

You should note clearly that I'm not saying I made up any of these ideas--though I do have many that I think will "be helpful" and add value to this system--the vast majority of the work I do is designed to "reward original authors and ideas" for the work that they've done ... things like the creator of Beeteleuse helping to explain how time travel and repeating this same exact problem being solved are clearly the source of not only the IL-movies but also things like the Midrash and the clues that the Adamic language has been brought back from "now" to the past in order to help us understand ... just that.

I am not trying to control you, nor this project--rather to do exactly what I've said for years ... create a group of interested people, also interested in this thing being run by an international and absolutely "open to all" organization that uses the product they are building for self-oversight. That was in the little "9/11 message" but Google's HTML renderer seems to have cut it off around the words "si doing it." Everything I've brought up as prototypes and quite a bit of my writing itself--as well as the copyleft of all my books are designed around more than just "free software" but rather the open source ethos that would clearly have made a better voting system than "Die Bold" and little ATM machines you have to drive to a polling center to see hacked.

See, doing it matters.

Confirming that once my fucking name and face are on television; this promise and copyright will apply not to just the single pale yellow book that I wrote in 2015; but to the sum of all of my printed writing, and all of its derivatives; providing this same foundation with a significant monetary base (you'd imagine) in order to effect the change in democracy and in world philanthropy (ending world hunger and disease, a good reason not to attack, or steal from, me). I'd like to see this added to my "living will" just like that--as soon as I'm alive and on TV, have a ball with the millions in book sales. (As in spending it on ... something like assimilating replicators and doors)... or promoting that end.

You have more than enough impetus and "spark" to get started. Start making the world a better place, today.
